Examiner's Amendment

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Jeffrey King on 4/4/06.

1. In line 1 of claims 24, 31, 35, 39, 42, 49, "or prevention" is deleted.

Reasons for Allowance

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the invention relates to a method of using the instant compound for treating or preventing an addictive disorder. The closest prior art of Beer et al., US 6,204,284, discloses the racemate for treating an addictive disorder or compulsive disorder. An isomer is expected to be more active than the other isomer or their racemate mixture. In re Adamson, 125 USPQ 233 (CCPA, 1960). The instant isomer is less active than the racemate, which is presumed obvious over the racemate under Adamson since one of the isomers is expected to be less active. However, an isomer may be allowable over the racemate by balancing the presumption of obviousness against unexpected properties. See In re May and Eddy, 197 USPQ 601 (CCPA, 1978), non-addictive properties; Ortho-McNeil Pharmaceutical, Inc. v. Mylan Labs. Inc., 348 F. Supp. 2d 713 (NDWV, 2004), lower toxicity.

According to the specification, the racemic mixture of the instant compound inhibits the uptake of dopamine, norepinephrine and serotonin, while the instantly claimed isomer inhibits only dopamine uptake. Therefore, the isomer is free of the side effect arising from inhibition of norepinephrine and serotonin uptake, such as hypertension and sexual dysfunction.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
